The Ways and Means Committee Income Tax System.

Net Earnings of Corporations, Successions and Legacies to be Taxed.

Plan to Tax Income of Individuals in Excess of $5,000 Annually. Editorial Discussion in the Tax Column of the following pages. Paying Claims Considered.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—It has been definitely determined that the income tax system to be reported by the ways and means committee will be confined to a tax on the net income of all corporations and a tax on succession and legacies.

Messrs. Bryan, McMillin, Whiting and others made a strong fight for a plan broad enough to include all incomes of individuals in excess of $5,000 per annum, but they have been forced to acquiesce in the will of the majority, and abandon the graduated income tax in favor of one applying only to corporations and successions. The democratic members have now reached a definite conclusion on this subject, and it can therefore be confidently announced that the income tax system will be narrowed down to these specific limits, unless the recommendations of the committee are upset in the house, and a general plan of a graduated tax on all income, private as well as corporate, be adopted.

The committee, in its report to the house, will adopt a unique argument for restricting the system to corporations, instead of applying it to all individuals. They will state that the greatest money-getting power of the country are the corporations, while the risk to individual stockholders is less than the risk in any private business enterprise. Corporations derive special advantages from legislation, one of which is that in case of commercial disaster the stockholders are only liable to the extent of the full value of the stock subscribed, and that, to offset these special advantages, they should bear a heavier burden of the expenses of government. The tax on corporations, therefore, will not be a graduated one, but will apply only to the earnings, of whatever aggregate. This is an essential departure from the time-honored theory of an income tax, as most political economists have maintained the graduated system, imposing nothing on incomes of less than $5,000 per annum, two per cent on the excess between $5,000 and $20,000, and three per cent on the excess between $20,000 and $50,000, and ten per cent on the excess above $50,000.

If a system applying to individuals had been adopted, there is no doubt it would have been such a graduated plan as this, but since it is to apply to corporations and successions only, it will be upon the net earnings of the corporation and the gross amount of the succession or legacy.

Successions and legacies in this connection, of course, apply only to personally and money. The democratic committee has decided, however, to increase the tax radically on cigarettes, and to impose a tax on playing cards. Both of these points are definitely decided, the latter being a tax on the other to tax an article which can bear a heavy burden without any individual feeling the weight of it.

The internal revenue tax on whiskey is still an open question. The committee is maintaining a studious reticence on the subject, for fear of the manipulators on the stock exchange.

Work at Detroit.

Rich, Dec. 1.—The celebration of the anniversary of the Detroit riot, about even, except that ten thousand of the poor of the city were provided with a good dinner and food enough to last for several days. The result of the efforts of the pastor's union and the Chapman revival services over $50,000 worth of food and clothing were gathered. This has been distributed during the past three days and Thursday morning saw the last of the donations placed in the possession of the needy ones.

Double Hanging in Illinois.

DANVILLE, Ill., Dec. 1.—G. W. Salmons, attorney for Harvey Pate and Frank Stires, who are sentenced to be hanged December 3, has returned from Springfield, where he went in order to induce Gov. Altgeld to commute the sentence to life imprisonment. The governor refused to take any action in the matter. He admitted he was opposed to the principle to capital punishment, but as it is the letter part of the law of the state he did not feel that it was right for him to exercise his prerogative in this case.

Wallace Statue Voted.

BATONROUGE, La., Dec. 1.—The Wallace statue was unveiled in Duval Hill park Thursday. Arrangements for the event have been in the hands of a committee consisting of Col. William L. Love, Col. Lane Tanehill, John Abernethy and John Turnbull, members of the St. Andrew's society. A historical address was delivered. Mr. Spence made the presentation speech and Mayor Latrobe accepted the statue on behalf of the city.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 1.—Considerable of a stir was experienced in the State Normal school in this city Wednesday. By preconcerted arrangement a large number of the late students came to school with their hair done up in the top of their heads in old-fashioned style.

Some of the young men got wind of what the girls were to do, and in a spirit of mischief nearly all the boys parted their hair in the middle before entering the assembly-room. The unusual appearance of both sexes caused uproarious laughter, and members of the faculty present, fearing that discipline would be destroyed, sent the young men to the president's office, where they were given the alternative of leaving the school or parting their hair on the side as usual. The young men discussed the matter two hours and then decided to change their hair partings.

ANGRY INDIANS.

Big Body of Them Bearing Down on the Whites in Oklahoma.

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 1.—News comes from Woodsfork, Ok., Wednesday night, that grave fears are entertained in Cheyenne country for the safety of the people, who are in danger of an attack from a large band of Cheyenne Indians from the north.

It is said that the Indians propose to revenge themselves for the killing of a white man by the Cheyenne. A white man was shot by O'Hara while in the act of driving off some of the latter's cattle. The Indians on the allotments in Cheyenne country are clamorous and said to be getting very unruly, and the whites in the neighborhood fear trouble.

Charged With Fraud.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Edward L. Dyer, until recently manager of the western office of the Northwestern Emory Wheeling Co., in this city, is charged with having defrauded the company out of $5,000. He was arrested two or three weeks ago and held to the grand jury in $5,000. He jumped his bail, however, and can not now be found.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Schaefer has announced that other engagements will prevent him meeting Ives in the match game arranged for January. The thing has now fallen through entirely.

HUMAN LIFE CHEAP.

About the West Virginia Mine-Struck Miners and Other Alarms in a Few Days.

WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 1.—Four murders and three affairs which will result fatally have been reported here since last Saturday night, all of them the result of too much whiskey, and most of it moonshine. Saturday was pay day at nine of the larger mines along the line of the Norfolk and Western railroad, and since then the colored people and foreign element among the miners have run riot. There are twelve prisoners in the jail here, and a tough lot of mugs would be hard to find in the wild and woolly west.

Tuesday night, when the jailer went to look them up in their cells, they attacked him, and he had to cripple three of them with his gun before they were subdued. Tuesday evening two blacks and a Hungarian got into a row at Burke, and one of the former was shot three times. He will die. Ten miles up the road Tuesday night, A. S. Waldron was fatally struck by Jack Abbott while they were quarreling about a store bill. Waldron was a respected citizen, and one of the pillars of this region. Abbott has not been arrested.

A black named Edwards started from Keokuk, Kansas, Sunday night, carrying a small keg of whiskey and wearing a new pair of shoes. His corpse was found on Tuesday, in the woods, the shoes and whiskey having been the inducement to some one to put two Winchester bullets through his head.

A report from Kimball says that in a free fight three Sunday night, Hiram Day, a white man, and Jim Burns, colored, during a free fight, in which two saloons were completely demolished, shot each other to death.

At Davis Station, Hilda Mitchell, a white woman of good reputation, was found murdered in the woods. She was last seen near where her body was found, walking in advance of Ernest Deering, a Frenchman, who keeps a barber shop at Eckman. Deering has been arrested. Several minor casualties have been reported, but no other fatal ones.

THE ADMINISTRATION

Will Not Force the Policy of Restoring the Queen to the Throne.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—At last Secretary Gresham has consented to take the public into his confidence enough to announce that the administration has decided for its remarkable course in Hawaii.

President Gresham had an official friend that when President Harrison entered into the arrangement with the governments of Germany and England for the purchase of the Hawaiian Islands, the objectionable king, Liliuokalani, was in 1890 and brought about the deposing of King Kalanikui, the established president which has been taken up by this administration for the reenthronement of Queen Liliuokalani.

Secretary Gresham has a lot of copies of President Harrison's proclamation of May 21, 1890, upon "neutrality toward the autonomous government of the Hawaiian Islands," and places it in the hands of every out-of-town friend who calls for one of these copies.

But what is most significant is the remark made by the secretary of state to the friend to whom he sent the above, that he did not think the administration would force the policy of restoring the queen to her throne. He thought the efforts already made were sufficient to show good intentions, and that nothing further would be done at present. This is taken as meaning that the administration has yielded to public opinion, and will let things take their own course on the islands.
